Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall:- My dear madam, how are you? I hope that you are well, & that you is enjoying Life's pleasures. My dear Mrs. Hall I have been intending to write to you for a long time, but it seemed, as though that I would lose courage, & thinking that you would get angry with me, for writing to you, as an honest stranger & nothing but a Poor honest working widow, that is - when I am well. & is able to be working. I read the papers quiet often, when ever I have the 2 cents to spare to get the paper, and I prayed often to God, that some day that you would get your acquittal, & be a free widow, and again rejoice with the world & its decorations, & after I read where the trial was nearly to an end. I prayed, that - God would help you. & said "Oh! Father, above & our supreme ruler Help that poor widow" I am a widow too with not good health, &
